

New

Parametrix- Downtime- Insurance

A growing number of businesses rely today on third-party IT services such as cloud computing, e-commerce platforms, payment gateways and more.

Business interruption caused by outages of cloud-based products and services cost billions of dollars every year.

For the first time, businesses can now protect their cash flows from unexpected interruption with quick insurance payout when third-party IT downtime occurs.

How it works

Predetermined Coverage

Coverage amount per hour and waiting period pre-agreed with the customer

Downtime Occurs

Parametrix's independent systems monitor the service providers' performance for outage

Customer Compensation

Once triggered, the customer is automatically notified and payment is transferred within 15 days

Insurance you can rely on for your business continuity

Protect Your Revenue Stream

Reduce the volatility of your revenue stream and lower external payout exposures from the unexpected

Have the Cash to Recover Fast

Maintain liquidity for business continuity and ensure critical business applications with back-up solutions

Cover SLA Liabilities

Have the capital to compensate your customers and prevent customer churn

Learn more